

Song Lyrics

By Chantelle Bee (Belanger-Sam)

Back to you

I know I shouldn't but I always do

Running back to you every time i say i never wanna see you again

No matter what you do

Klein

Knowin i could get hurt again

Still i return again

Is it the pain I crave

Or am i insane

Or do i just love when my heart aches

Running back always running back to you

No matter what you do

Must be a spell you put on me

Why cant i leave you

Running always running back to you

No matter what you do

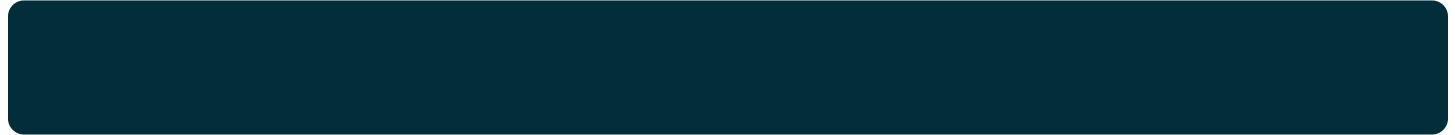

Maybe i just love your game

That im sick of playin

Yet i play and i play and i play again and agian

I know i deserve deserve better then

The way that your treating me

Wish i could just let you be

Running back always running back to you

No matter no matter what you do

Anyone in my place would just stay away

But yet i stay why do i stay

Loving you is losing game

Every time i try and walk away

Instead i walk back wards into your arms

What the hell

What the hell am i thinking

Running back always running back to you

Is it the pain i love so true

Do i love the heartache do i love how it feels

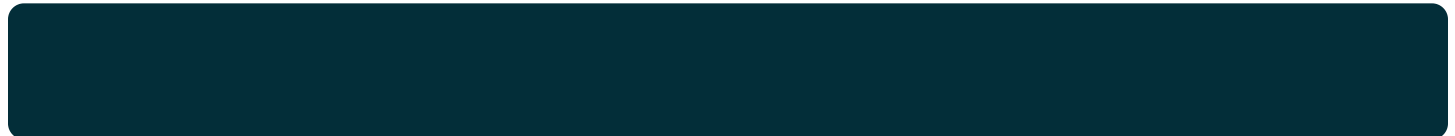

Do i like being such a fool

Running back always running back

Even when i know its breaking me down

Running back always running back to you

Running back to you

Running back to you

No matter what you do

Like a moth to a flame

Im drawn to the burn

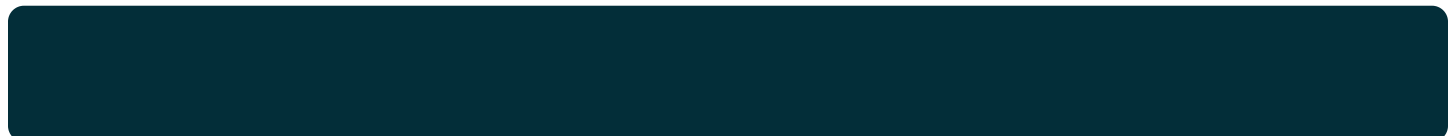

Running always running back

Knowing ill get hurt like that and still i return

Still i come running back into your arms again

Running back to you

No matter what you do
